Conference of The Nation's Governors Is Disrupted

PROHIBITION ROW MARKS THE CLOSE

Scenes Unprecedented In Fifteen Years of Organization

CO-OPERATION IS FINALLY PLEDGED

Ku Klux Is a Greater Issue Gov. Parker
Declares

(Associated Press)
WEST BADEN, Ind., Oct. 19.—The scheduled program of the conference of governors was disrupted today by scenes of unprecedented violence in the prohibition question.

When the conference met today, Governor P. P. Barker, of Maine, called for unfinished business and Governor William E. Sweet, of Colorado, stated the redraft of the memorial on the prohibition question to be presented to President Coolidge at the luncheon conference in Washington tomorrow, was ready for the signatures.

Governor J. J. Blaine, of Wisconsin, was on his feet instantly with objections to the signing of the memorial, declaring the round robin is an unfair evasion of "Our rule against resolutions." He urged a discussion of methods for enforcement of the Volstead act, instead of "claiming from the heads of the state that we are virtuous men and good governors," he said.

"I am opposed to the 18th amendment and the Volstead act, and the people of Wisconsin know it," declared Governor Blaine, "but there is no criticism of the enforcement of the laws in our state. If we are meeting here to memorialize on the enforcement of laws we should neglect none. This fanaticism is based hypocrisy."

Governor John M. Parker, of Louisiana, declared he would resign from the conference of governors of a single name was attached to the memorial.

"The Ku Klux Klan is the greatest issue in America today," he declared, "and that question demands the time and attention of this meeting instead of mere words on the 18th amendment."

"I have declared martial law 20 times in various parts of Texas to insure law enforcement," asserted Pat M. Neff, governor of the Lone Star state, "and if 47 governors refuse to sign this memorial it still will go to the national capital with the signature of the largest unit of this republic attached. No state, be it New York or Wisconsin has the right to encourage the enemies of the constitution."

Governor Parker interrupted the Texas governor with the statement that the Ku Klux Klan was seeking to take charge of the constitution and Governor Blaine rose to a point of order to challenge Governor Neff on his statement regarding encouraging enemies of the constitution. With several governors clamoring for the floor, Governor Barker restored order only by vigorous pounding with the gavel.

CHOIR PERFECTS AN ORGANIZATION

At their rehearsal held last night at the Central Baptist church the members of the Ham-Ramsay choir, perfected an organization and named the new singing company "The Community Singers Chorus." The officers elected as follows: President, Mrs. F. F. Tidwell, accompanist, Mrs. D. D. Gibson and Mrs. H. Z. Kinney, Director, B. B. Pickens, Secretary Miss Kileen Day.

Those interested in the success of the new organization were greatly encouraged at the large attendance last night and the interest and enthusiasm manifested. There were about fifty singers who took part in the rehearsal. Quite a large number of visitors were present to hear the first rehearsal of the singers.

The first regular performance by the new company of singers will occur Sunday afternoon at the Princess theater when a cordial invitation is extended to the people of the entire community. All the concerts of the new company are to be free to the public. A large crowd is expected at the Princess Sunday afternoon.

SARDINES IN STOMACH BETRAY MURDERER

When the burned automobile of Alex Kels, wealthy Lodi, Cal., cattleman, was found near his home and a charred body was found in it it was believed Kels had been killed by robbers and his car fired. The body was buried, and Kels mourned by his many friends. But the insurance company knew Kels had eaten sardines just before his "death," and an autopsy showed no sardines in the dead man's body. A quiet police search ended in the arrest of Kels, who confessed he murdered an unidentified man and burned his body so his wife could collect $100,000 insurance. His wife, an expectant mother, has not been told her husband is alive.

SCHOOL BOARD HAS ITS FALL MEETING

The annual fall meeting of the Morgan County board of education was held at the court house this morning, with John T. Kyle acting chairman, and Prof. E. L. Hayes as Secretary.

The following members of the board were present, B. L. Malone, Thomas Crawford, Robert Garner, Prof. H. T. Lile, John T. Kyle and Prof. E. L. Hayes.

The meeting of the board was called especially to apportion the school funds of the county, to employ teachers and to transact any other business that might properly come before the board.

It was found that $123,000 was available this year for school purposes, with a possibility of this amount being increased provided large number of poll taxes are paid this year. It was pointed out by Prof. Hayes that as election time drew near, the hope was entertained that many would pay their poll taxes, especially since every cent of the poll tax money goes into the school fund.

A resolution passed the board authorizing the county superintendent of education to place fire escapes in all school buildings in the county where the buildings are two or more stories in height. It is understood fire escapes will have to be put in at Trinity, and at Falkville.

About 175 teachers were employed it was stated. Apportionments of money were made on strictly a per capita basis, a ruling which guaranteed equal rights to the city and country schools, it was explained. A committee composed of Prof. W. W. Benson, A. A. Hardage and D. D. McGhee appeared before the board asking that as much money as possible be allowed to the Decatur schools in view of the expense connected with the opening of work of the two new high school buildings. It was explained that in addition to the regular appropriations to the city schools, the Decatur schools might get part of what was termed "the revolving school fund" later on.

Train Operator Roasted to Death

(Associated Press.)

FARRELL, Pa., Oct. 19.—A train operator was roasted to death in his steel cage and four other men were so badly burned that they died in a hospital when a cable slipped and spilled 70 tons of molten steel at the Farrell plant of the Carnegie Steel company last night. The dead men were Fisher, John Hooker, Robert Phillips, Theodore Brown and Claude Semler.

Money Is Collected For the Hospital

Announcement was made today that the sum of $3,223.65 has been collected for the Benevolent hospital, with a balance of $474.50 remaining to be collected. At that time the bonds which have been liquidated with a small balance remaining in the treasury.

PROMINENT MEN GUESTS OF KIWANIS

Almost 100 per cent membership attendance was registered at the weekly luncheon of the Morgan Kiwanis club yesterday, when the club members and their guests met in the banquet hall of the new addition to the Lyons Hotel.

The guests of the club were members of the state public service commission A. G. Patterson, Fitzhugh Lee, and Frank Morgan. Also Mr. McDonald, the chief engineer of the commission was a special guest of the club.

Other guests included T. B. Horton, the guest of Clyde Hendrix. The speaking followed the serving of the luncheon, president E. F. Baird acting as toast master.

Secretary Marvin Rankin led a number of the favorite songs of the club. Mr. Rankin also sang a self announced solo, at the conclusion of which, S. H. Malone, chairman of the entertainment committee, arose and stated to the company, that his committee did not authorize the solo of Mr. Rankin and disclaimed all responsibility for the same.

A. G. Patterson chairman of the public service commission was the first speaker called on by Mr. Baird. Mr. Patterson declared that he had agreed to speak at the chamber of commerce membership meeting in the evening, he wished to be excused from the meeting.

Fitzhugh Lee, associate member of the commission pleaded the same reason for not making an address. Mr. McDonald stated that it was his job to furnish the material for the commissioners to speak about, and got excused from speaking.

Commissioner Morgan, spoke at some length and made a comparison between the work of the state public service commission and that of the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Morgan stated that since the laws of 1920 which gave large powers to the interstate commission over the railroads, the state commissions had very little jurisdiction over the common carriers. Mr. Morgan said there were close to 300 utility companies in the state, however, which were under the direct supervision of the state public service commission. Mr. Morgan expressed strong opposition to the apparent tendency of the republican party to centralize power and to give the federal government too much power, as compared to the powers still held by the individual states.

Carriers to Attend the Circus Tonight

Members of the Daily's carrier force will attend the Sparks circus tonight as guests of the management of the show. The carriers were requested to meet at 7 o'clock at The Daily office.

BOARD TO MEET

An executive session of the board of management of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. will be held at the building this evening, it was stated by secretary Randolph. It is expected the board will authorize the employment of an assistant secretary at their meeting tonight.

RAIN MAY SLOW UP CENTRAL'S AIR GAME

Fearful Eyes Are Cast Heavenward Today
by Fans Here

CHAMPIONSHIP AT STAKE IN CONTEST

Play Will Be Started
Promptly at 3:30,
Promoters Say

Fearful eyes were cast skyward by Central fans today as the heavens continued to weep copious tears, for on the eve of the championship battle of the county Saturday it looked very much like Central's forward passing game against Hartselle on the morrow would be hampered greatly by the moisture. It is a difficult thing to pass a wet football with the degree of accuracy necessary to gain yardage and passes incomplete are worse than worthless.

Rain during the week has interfered with the conditioning process of the purple and gold eleven, but when his charges have been chased from the field by rain, the local mentor has used the time for blackboard drill and blocking practice in the gym. Despite the rain Central has not been inactive and judging from hints dropped out from Hartselle, neither has the county high aggregation.

The game Saturday will be called promptly at 3:30 o'clock. The visitors probably will arrive here in automobiles early in the afternoon, accompanied by a big band of backers. A prominent citizen of Hartselle, here on business Thursday afternoon, declared half the town would be here to cheer Morgan County's eleven. "We are going to keep the state clean," was the County high slogan, for never has a local team been able to sweep back the charges of a Hartselle eleven.

The starting line ups probably will be:
Hartselle RE: Central
Walker RT: Handy
Nelson LG: Bower
Stephenson RG: McCord
Hodges C: Kirby
Stover LT: Shelton or Sewell
Tomlinson LE: Lee
Hartlesson Q: Gustin
Winton RHB: Tuck (Capt)
Garison LHB: Johnston
Hartselle FB: Pepper

Pep meetings have been held in the local schools throughout the week, and while the players have been working hard for the game the students generally have been preparing to lend their vocal support. The game has attracted wide interest over the county. The local down-town and school attendance will be swelled by the Hartselle contingent, many visitors from other sections of the county, and employees of the Louisville and Nashville shops have been discussing the approaching contest all week.

The game will establish the champions of the county. For years, the county high eleven has held the crown. A fast team from here last year tried valiantly to wrest it away, but went down to defeat. This year, equally as fast an eleven, a heavier squad and a much more resourceful machine will attempt the same trick.

A muddy field will hurt Central's passing game. That much is conceded. It will slow up Gustin's sweeps around end, but it will provide an ideal opportunity for Tuck and Pepper to smash the line. The versatility of Central's attack is seen in the fact that the mud may hurt part of the offensive but will help another. Two harder hitting backs than Pepper and Tuck are not found in the state.

ENCYCLOPEDIA IS GIVEN TO CENTRAL

School authorities expressed pleasure this morning because of the quick and hearty responses to their call for new furnishings for the high school buildings, as made in Thursday's Daily.

Superintendent Benson stated this morning that the most useful donations made so far to the schools was a handsome set of the "Encyclopedia Britannica" of 28 volumes by D. C. Adams, to be placed in the Central high school library.

Prof. Benson stated that he hoped he was sure Miss Amelia Troy, who is making a faithful effort to provide the library with good books, would be especially pleased by the generous gift the good work would continue and that of Mr. Adams.

ROUSING MEETING HELD BY CHAMBER

President of the Magic City Advertising
Club Speaks

UTILITY BOARD MEMBERS TALK

Much Interest Shown in Report on the Civic Activities

One of the most successful of the seven or eight membership meetings of the chamber of commerce, as it is at present organized, was held in the evening of last night. The meeting was piloted ably by the chairman, J. W. Clifton who did not allow a dull moment to creep in or any lagging in interest from the time the company took their seats at the long tables until the last of the informal discussions, were completed at the close of the meeting soon after nine o'clock.

There was but one disappointing thing during the whole evening, that of the unavoidable absence of A. P. Wilson-Lawrence, vice president of the advertising clubs of the world, and one of the scheduled speakers of the evening. It was explained by B. A. Davis, President of the Birmingham Advertising club, who was sent to take the place of Mr. Wilson-Lawrence, that at noon Thursday the advertising expert was taken ill and rendered unable to make the trip from the Magic City.

Mr. Davis proved to be an excellent substitute. He took the subject which had been assigned to Mr. Wilson-Lawrence that of "Advertising," and deeply impressed his hearers with the value and true place of advertising in modern business.

The other visitor-speakers of the evening were A. G. Patterson, president of the state public service commission, and Fitzhugh Lee, associate member of the commission.

Following the addresses of the visiting speakers, at the suggestion of Mr. Clifton a number of the local men made short speeches, including Dr. C. Davidson, E. F. Baird, W. B. Edmondson, W. W. Rahn and Charles Rountree.

Dinner and Musical Program.
The dinner was served promptly at 7 o'clock, by members of the Baptist Young People's Union of the First Baptist church of Decatur. It was stated by members of the union that two Decatur girls had been sent to school at Nashville by the union, and that the proceeds of last night's banquet were to be used to defray the school expenses of the young women at Nashville. It was stated $100 was realized by the union on last night's dinner.

The Decatur concert band, was at the rooms of the chamber in force last night, and just before and during the dinner played inspiring music, to the great pleasure of the diners. Music was played all during the dinner, under the direction of Prof. Marston, who has charge of the band.

Speaking Opened by Clifton.
Following the conclusion of the dinner, which was excellent and served

THIS IS THE TIME TO START YOUR CONTEST IN EARNEST

This Is the Big Week for Many of the Candidates.
All Seem to Be Out Working for Subscriptions and Votes. If Your Name Is on the List, Start Today.

Monday was the actual start of The Daily's great automobile and prize contest in which several thousand dollars worth of automobiles and other valuable prizes will be given away to the people who secure the most votes between now and Nov. 17.

Day before yesterday the first list of divisions appeared in the Daily. The next list will appear on Tuesday, Oct. 23. Many additional nominations have been received by the Campaign Department to add to the next list.

The first three prizes are well known makes of automobiles. Each automobile to be given away is a leader in its own particular class. The people who stand the three highest in the campaign at the close will win these three automobiles. All three of them will be given away complete just as they are ordinarily sold—ready to drive away with the winners.

Then besides the three automobiles there are twelve merchandise prizes as have been announced, ranging from $15 Graphophones to a $15 Manicuring Set. There is something on this vast list for everyone. Anyone at all who has the ambition to use his or her

Brings Sistine Choir for American Tour

Monsignor Don Antonio Rella, conductor of the famous Sistine Choir of the Sistine Chapel, in Rome, has just arrived in New York with his choir of 48 singers, for an American tour. The Sistine is the pope's own choir, singing only at functions at which he officiates.

HEAVY BLOWS ARE DEALT BOOTLEGGERS

(Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Federal prosecutors and prohibition forces have dealt bootlegging strongholds of New York city and New Jersey hard blows. Developments in the past 24 hours have been:

Disclosure of a plot to swamp New York with New Jersey beer to the exclusion of the product of breweries in other neighboring states.

Arrests of eleven persons, including a New Jersey state official, a prohibition agent, a warehouse man, four wealthy brewers two dealers in alcohol and two alleged go-betweens.

Charges by District Attorney Hayward that his agents, posing as corrupt, persuaded the participants in the plot into passing over $80,000 in part payment of bribes that were to reach $500,000.

Disclosure made by H. D. Easterbrook, special customs agent, that 60 rum boats $500,000 worth of liquor and 1300 prisoners, had been taken in a series of raids on offshore crafts. Seizure of three truck loads of New Jersey beer, brought into Manhattan shortly after the arrest of the eleven alleged bootleg conspirators, most of them at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

Hayward filed suit to invoke the Redlock law against 54 saloons, cafes and cabarets, announcing it is only a preliminary to the closing of 2,000 openly conducted places in New York City.

MEET AT SHOPS

A well attended religious meeting was held at the Louisville and Nashville shops at noon today under the auspices of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. Dr. L. F. Goodwin and a solo was sung by Mrs. Frank Morrow.

PROHI FORCES WANT FORD

National Chairman Has Issued Call for Meet
Early Next Month

(Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 19.—The prohibition party's nomination for president in 1924 is Henry Ford. He wants it, according to a statement issued here by Virgil G. Hinshaw, of Washington, D. C., chairman of the prohibition national committee.

Mr. Ford looked favorably on the offer of the prohibition party to give him the nomination in 1924 and would have accepted it had he not been persuaded by followers of Woodrow Wilson to stay out of the race, Mr. Hinshaw asserted.

Prohibitionists generally favor Ford more than any other man for the presidency, according to opinion expressed yesterday at a conference between Hinshaw and dry leaders, and they are willing to compromise with other parties to secure an agreement on the nomination.

In connection with the nomination concerning Mr. Ford the prohibition committee's chairman, Virgil G. Hinshaw, on December 12, the two-day session of which will be to analyze and ready present conditions for the enforcement of prohibition laws and to arrange the time and place of the national convention.

FATHER AND SON ARE SHOT TO DEATH

(Associated Press)
VALDOSTA, Ga., Oct. 19.—Sheriff McGill 65 and his son, Taylor, were shot to death from ambush last night, early this morning. The bodies were found on the seat of a truck in which they were riding. The heads of both men had been pierced by bullets. It is reported here that John McGill has been arrested and taken to the Cook County jail in connection with the killing. Persons living near the scene of the ambush are said to have told officers they heard conversations between father and son after the shooting. They said they heard a man say "You have killed me and another voice reply, 'If I have not I'll finish it.' More shots followed, the officers were told.

Alabama Mason Quits the Council

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Judge George Flemming Moore, past foreign grand commander of the supreme council and inspector general of Scottish Rites Masons in Alabama, resigned from the supreme council today after a discussion over the Ku Klux Klan.

During the debate Mr. Moore was charged by members of the council with using his weekly publication, "The Fellowship Forum," to attack the Klan. Although the publication designated itself as a digest of national use all over the world, Moore have regarded it as a Masonic publication.

Consideration of Mr. Moore's resignation was postponed.

DELEGATES TO ARRIVE

Information received from local delegates who went to Atlanta to the state convention of the W. C. T. U. is to the effect the delegates from Decatur are expected home this evening.

PARDON GIVEN

According to advices received by Mrs. Alice Johnson, a pardon has been given Andy Johnson, who was convicted of manslaughter at Mobile, port, La., in December, 1922, for the killing of Harry Stevens, machinist. The pardon resulted from the circulation of petitions in his behalf.

DOCTOR RECOVERING

Dr. J. W. Weber, who has been confined to his rooms at the result of a sprained ankle, is recovering and will probably return to his office here next week. Dr. Weber, in the mean time, will be to wait upon any patient calling.

Instead of feeling good at the fall or fortune

WANTED—A PLAN THAT WILL WORK FOR COUNTY-WIDE CO-OPERATION

Striking illustrations of the far reaching effects of non-co-operation and of the great value and possibilities of co-operation appeared in the informal discussions at the membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night.

It appeared, on the one hand, that farmers of this county were not getting a local market for their produce, with the possible exception of their surplus cream and butter fat.

Some of the speakers seemed to think the buying public was not giving sufficient encouragement to the farmers, while others showed that there was no telling when the farmers were going to have meats, chickens and eggs and dairy products for the use of the consumers, hence they need not expect a ready market. It was also pointed out that often times products offered for sale were not in first class condition nor put up in a clean, attractive manner.

One speaker said that when butter was brought to the city that was made into irregular shapes with numerous finger prints on it, and badly wrapped, the makers of the butter need not expect to compete with the dairy butter cakes put up by those who understood marketing.

The upshot of the whole discussion was—the lesson from the whole discussion was—there must be some real effort and some real brain work done, and a system of co-operative marketing established before any appreciable gains can be expected toward making farmers of Morgan county and consumers of the county really and truly beneficial to each other in any important sense.

Looked at from the standpoints of the several speakers at the meeting, it appeared that neither the farmers nor the consumers of his products are to blame, except that neither side has made any constructive efforts to get together in a business way.

It was shown that if the farmers could bring their produce to the city regularly and at stated times and in stated amounts, and also meet the requirements of their prospective customers, that a long step forward would have been taken toward co-operation between all the people of the county.

It was also shown that if dealers could promise farmers in advance as to how many bales of hay they would buy of them, how many hogs, how much beef, how much butter fat and how many chickens and eggs, say in a year's time, then the farmers could go home and make these products in the sure knowledge of having a market for them. But always the discussions ended with the thought uppermost—what a mighty task after all it is to establish co-operation. It may come about after it is seen that the establishing of cooperation is a task for awhile, that some able and enterprising men will undertake the job. The value of co-operation has been discussed until that phase of the subject is thoroughly understood the next move is to adopt ways and means whereby a real business community of interest may be established between the farmers of the county and the consuming public. The man or the organization that leads out successfully in a scheme for co-operative buying and selling—a scheme that will work—will gain the everlasting praise and gratitude for the entire county.

"I was in a badly run-down condition and was almost on the verge of a nervous breakdown when I started on Stella Vitae," said Mrs. Parlee Claborn, of Double Springs, Ala.

"My head ached all the time and I was so nervous I could hardly keep from crying. Any little noise would set me wild and people talking grated on my nerves so I could hardly keep still. I could hardly get any rest at night and got up in the morning feeling worse than when I went to bed.

"By the time I had finished my first bottle of Stella Vita my headaches were gone and my nerves quiet. I have kept it up to make sure my relief is permanent and I haven't had any trouble since."

LUNCHEON ON THURSDAY

Mrs. S. Malone, Mrs. W. M. Bailey, Mrs. Clyde Hendrix, Mrs. E. J. Polhill and Mrs. T. M. Jones, Sr. were joint hostesses on Thursday to the other members of the Ferry Street Rook Club at a lovely luncheon.

They were invited to the home of Mrs. Hendrix and were surprised to find the hostesses with coats and hats on. They were told that they would lunch and much to their surprise they were taken to the Tokit Tea Room where a course luncheon was served. Each had to "Speak For It."

Later the usual rook games were played at the Hendrix home and this was artistically decorated with a profusion of large dahlias.

THURSDAY CLUB

Mrs. Mary Carpenter entertained the members of the Thursday Club and Mrs. W. B. Markstein at bridge on yesterday afternoon. Beautiful chrysanthemums and fall roses added to the attractiveness of her home.

Mrs. Hamill was awarded the club prize and Mrs. Markstein received a souvenir of the afternoon.

A lovely salad course was served after the game.

Amusement

When Geo. E. Wintz, one of America's leading theatrical producers, chose "Venus" as the title of his new 1923-24 extravaganza and set out to assemble a congress of loveliness in keeping with the alluring name of the beauty goddess, he declared himself in for more tribulation than he reckoned with. There is such a thing as having "em too beautiful. Besides the worry, Wintz is put to considerable expense to keep the charming miscreant in his employ.

While inspecting the masterpieces in the Palais de Luxembourg, Paris, last spring, Mr. Wintz, came upon Bourgeois' famous painting "Birth of Venus." The sheer beauty of the work so impressed the showman that he determined that his next musical revue should bear the name of the classic deity and that the feminine contingent should be chosen with such discernment as to be a worthy tribute to the glorious Bourgeois.

A large number of young women aspirants were interviewed, before twenty-four were selected. It is acknowledged that never have two dozen such beautiful girls been assembled on a single stage in America. Since the hot house type familiar to Broadway would not do and all of the maidens had never before appeared on the stage several months in dancing school was the result.

Some of the song hits of the show are "Venus," "South Sea Island Mood," "Girls, Girls, Girls," "Bolly Oh," "Hello My Radio," "Wait for the Silver Lining," "Tut Tut," "Beautiful Baby," "Oh Daddy Mine," "Chick-A-Dee-Clock," "A Kiss for You" and several others of a tuneful nature.

Johnnie Goetz, the inimitable comedian, will be found supporting Miss Brown in "Venus."

There are twenty-one distinctive and unique scenes in this latest of Wintz productions. The company carries its own orchestra.

VENUS

PROVIDES THE NEW EXOTIC HARLEQUINADE

NYRA BROWN and JOHNNY GETZ

Like the Dawn of Time when Venus by the Greeks vied Aphrodite issued from the foam of Neptune's realm, none has dared to gainsay her dominion over Love and Beauty. Worshipped by the ancients as the divine embodiment of all that is glorious in womanhood, in rites that ran the gamut from pastoral festivals on the Athenian plain to the saturnalian orgies in the Grove of Delphic, those connoisseurs of feminine graces who marked the Old Regime gallant Charles II. Artists sculptors, painters, poets, all marked her as long as splendours bow down and worship at the Shrine of Venus.

St. Anthony himself would have donned the mantle of Don Juan could he have but seen this Show. A full glimpse of the allurements of these bewitching Venuses and one marvels that there were not more ship wrecks in the Aegean when the Sirens tuned up their radio. Look at these captivating corymbes in their revealing gossamer draperies and don't blame Adam for the apple episode. Ponce de Leon would have had to seek no further, had Venus played his town.

DON'T BUY FROM SPECULATORS knowing the tremendous drawing powers of this attraction unscrupulous New York and Chicago ticket speculators follow VENUS from stand to stand attempting to purchase tickets for the purpose of resale at exorbitant prices to the public. To curb the machinations of this predatory crew Geo. E. Wintz directs that no more than six tickets shall be sold to any one person, unless proper evidence is provided that the same are not for purposes of resale at advanced prices.

Physical Health means Beauty!

HEALTH and beauty go hand in hand. Where the system is run down—the face drawn and haggard—the body limp and lifeless—beauty is missing. Looks of pity supplant those that might have been gases of admiration.

Restore your health and beauty will take care of herself. S. S. S.—the rich blood builder—rekindles the spark of health and lights the blaze of beauty by building red blood cells. The nerve power of your system finds life in these very blood cells. Build more red blood cells and your nerve power will increase. S. S. S. builds them. Rich blood will tangle through your system. That lost charm will return. Your entire system will be repaired. You will be ready to cope with the impurities and blemishes that handicap beauty.

As physical health means beauty so, too, does S. S. S. mean beauty. For S. S. S. means systems that are free from impurities—pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema, rheumatism, S. S. S. and good health go hand in hand.

S. S. S. is made of pure vegetable ingredients. It is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

ADDRESS ALL COMMUNICATIONS TO THE CAMPAIGN MANAGER, P. O. BOX 572, ALBANY

Rousing Meeting Held by Chamber

with consideration for each of the many guests, as president of the chamber of commerce, J. W. Clifton opened the speaking program by making a brief but comprehensive report to the membership of the accomplishments of the chamber since the last membership meeting.

J. W. Clifton explained as he was about to introduce to guest-speakers that as in the past the chamber of commerce was ready and anxious to serve the city and the county in every way possible.

The three principal speakers were A. G. Patterson, president of the state public service commission, Fitzhugh Lee, associate commissioner and B. A. Davis, president of the Advertising club of Birmingham.

The address of Mr. Davis was the most lengthy of the three, and was full of inspiration and wise suggestion on the creative and drawing power of advertising. It appeared before the evening was over that the ideas of Mr. Davis had permeated the minds of his hearers, every one of the subsequent speakers making some reference to advertising value and to its value.

The first speaker was A. G. Patterson, who was introduced by Mr. Clifton as one of the home men and a one who knew intimately the aspirations and needs of his home city and home county. Mr. Patterson's first idea, following a few preliminary remarks, had to do with the general attitude many seemed to have toward post-banquet speeches, and illustrated his remarks along this line, by reminding his hearers of what the famous after dinner speaker Chauncey M. DePew once said apropos of the happy appearance of the Prophet Daniel just before lions expected to feed upon his body, that Daniel "knew there would be no speeches after the banquet."

The largest portion of the address of Mr. Patterson was devoted to an explanation of the duties, organization, and accomplishments of the Alabama Public Service Commission. An interesting section of the speaker's address was his reference to the fact that for the first time in the history of the commission a full quota or a full working unit of workers assisted the three commissioners, Mr. Patterson said, including the three commissioners, fifteen, including an attorney, accountants and experts in engineering and on rates. J. F. McDonnell, a Tennessee Valley boy who had attained distinction as an engineer, was mentioned as the chief engineer, Mayer W. Aldridge as chief accountant, J. H. Aldridge as rate expert, and Hugh H. White as attorney, all Alabama born and reared.

The detail work of the commission was explained interestingly by Mr. Patterson. As previously arranged Fitzhugh Lee, associate commissioner was introduced by Mr. Patterson, who stated that there was only one thing on which the commissioners had disagreed, namely since all three came from different parts of the state, each mother's son declared "his section was the best."

Mr. Lee's speech seemed to indicate that he had been convinced this section of the state was "the best", especially that part of the address which had reference to the city of Decatur. Mr. Lee declared that every kind of an advantage belonged to Decatur. He said the city was right on the road to prosperity and that goddess could not miss Decatur, even if she tried, and the speaker added that Decatur would be a great center of business and industry "whether the people will or not."

This speaker referred to the city's location on the two greatest railroads in the state, its location on the Tennessee river and of the city's good backing as afforded by the rich lands of the Tennessee Valley. Although Mr. Lee spoke rather briefly he created a most favorable impression. He said the commission had been able to get back some of the money, charged for phone service during the past war period to the amount of close to $250,000.00. This speaker said the biggest single achievement of the present commission was to reduce the capitalization of the Alabama Power Company from about $5,000,000, which amount was declared to mean close to a saving of the people generally of $500,000.

After explaining that the illness of Mr. Wilson-Lawrence, caused him to have to speak in his place, B. A. Davis, a prominent business man of Birmingham and President of the Advertising Club of that city, gave an exhaustive statement to his interested hearers on the fundamental reasons for the existence of advertising as a business. The speaker said there was nothing of the "fad" about advertising, that it aroused people to a sense of their needs and therefore created values and increased business, that advertising made the element of personal responsibility in business prominent, that was a great aid to fairness and uniformity of treatment and service, and most important of all advertising told people facts about trade, bargains and business in general, that they would never know otherwise.

The speaker said that the world of people had become so busy, that the individual did not have time to inquire about stocks and values, but that he had to be told and told in an attractive way.

Mr. Davis spoke at length on the history of advertising. He showed that the inscriptions on the palace walls of ancient kings were but advertisements of what the kings did and of the arms in which they lived. The coats-of-arms of the ancient families, were shown to have been made to protect and establish those families. Ancient hotels were shown to have used such coats-of-arms, as advertisements.

It was shown that wandering painters were asked to paint attractive signs by the ancient inn-keepers, and reference was made to the famous advertisement picture of the "Three Golden Lions" the "Red Unicorn" etc.

The speaker showed entire familiarity with the works of Emerson, and quoted from the eminent writer several times. He said that Emerson had reference to the drawing and compelling power of attractive advertising when he said "Man lives by 'catch words', and not by bread alone."

The bulk of Mr. Davis's address had reference to the potential value of everybody and everything. His text was "An Empire, for sale cheap." He declared that the people of the Tennessee Valley had in them untold and dreamed of potentialities, and near the close of his address the speaker declared that unless the people got hold of their own powers and used them, the great natural resources of this Valley would remain untouched.

Mr. Davis impressed of what value "the man looking on from the outside," could be to a business. It was declared that a man might know all there was to know about his business, but that he needed the view point of the advertising expert, who could interpret the needs and wishes of the general public. In an informal short talk following his regular address, while the atmosphere of the meeting was full of ideas "of what ought to be done," Mr. Davis declared that his attention had been called to the presence of white way posts and the absence of lights in them.

Dr. Davidson discussed church advertising and said he was thoroughly sold to the idea. He referred to his certain knowledge of the "regular church announcements" becoming "so stereotyped and unnoticed that pastor's names had been retained or them long after they had left town for other pastorates." Dr. Davidson said "that when a business man said 'he did not need to advertise, I am ready to predict the bankrupt court for him in ten years time.' In a second short address, Dr. Davidson presented the city buyer's side of the controversy: over "Why Morgan County farmers cannot sell at home."

W. B. Edmondson and Charles Rountree, had made some good points of the need of more pigs being bought by local butchers, and were "making it hot" for those who failed to "cooperate with the farmer," when Dr. Davidson said he was "as much a farmer as the gentlemen (meaning Mr. Rountree) who designated himself as 'peavine' and that he wanted to tell that gentlemen and others that farmers must market regularly and after the most approved methods if they expected to build up a substantial all year round business with buyers in the city.

The local speakers previously mentioned, in addition to Messrs. Rountree, Edmondson and Davidson, all took about trade, bargains and business in a serious interest in the problem of larger marketing opportunities for the farmer, one speaker saying in a very audible voice, "I'll buy a half a hog." Mr. Clifton explained toward the close of the debate over the co-operating with Morgan County farmers, that the chamber's directors were working on the problem and that their efforts for a home demonstration agent, was still on. Mr. Clifton suggested to the farmers that while city people were seeking ways and means for buying their products, that the farmers seek to raise and sell such products as the market demands.

Thought for the Day.
The man who shifts responsibility soon finds that responsibility swamps him.

"They're like this every time—I make them of Picnic Flour"

"No chance of failure with Picnic! It's the best self-rising flour I ever knew. Biscuits just can't help being fine when I use it."

"Did you know Picnic is made by the same people that make Dainty flour? And of the very same wheat? Absolutely—the highest grade in the entire soft wheat crop!"

"You can depend on Picnic every time you bake, for its quality is always high. I wouldn't think of experimenting any more with other self-rising flours. Since I began using Picnic, baking has been a pleasure instead of something to worry about. Why don't you get a sack today? If you do, you'll never, never change."

60 cents out of every dollar you spend for coal goes up the chimney!

Government experiments have proved that the ordinary under-draft stove wastes about 60 per cent of the heat value of the fuel, in soot, smoke and gases, which escape up the chimney.

And it has been proved in thousands of homes that Cole's Hot Blast Heater, by stopping this fuel waste, saves one-third to one-half in fuel.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heaters

Cole's Hot Blast burns your fuel twice. First it burns the soot, gases and smoke, by mixing them with superheated air and driving them back upon the fire, where they are completely consumed. Then it burns the bed of clean coke which is left after the fuel gases have been extracted.

There are other important advantages which mean much to every woman. Cole's Hot Blast Heater means a cleaner home, because there is no spilling of coal and ashes on the carpet. You pour the coal in at the top of the stove instead of throwing it in at the side. And the ashes are removed without spilling. Only one-half the ashes to remove.

You can sleep later every morning, too, because this heater holds fire all night and there is no fire to build in the morning. Just open the draft. This stove will actually hold fire from Saturday night to Monday morning.

This stove burns any fuel—hard or soft coal, coke or wood—with the same saving, and the most steady, even heat you ever saw.

Come in and see our special demonstrations and displays of Cole's Hot Blast Heaters this week. It will save you money.
